ADAM: Automated Delivery of Alerts on Missing Children

Launched in November 2000, the ADAM Program, with the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC), has helped recover more than 190 missing children.

NCMEC uses the ADAM Program to quickly distribute a poster of a missing child, targeting a specific search area.

How it Works

NCMEC sends a photo of a missing child and important case details - including geographic areas to target for poster distribution - to ADAM.

The ADAM technology matches the geo-targeted area selected by NCMEC with its recipient database, resulting in a list of businesses and individuals who will receive the missing child poster.

ADAM transmits the missing child poster to targeted recipients.

Photos play a vital role in the search for missing children. Help us picture them home.
