

Help reduce cost and time associated with onsite property claims inspections.

A self-guided survey tool for faster claims inspections.

With loss adjustment expenses increasing, customer satisfaction scores decreasing and property claim volumes rising, relying on traditional inspection methods won't cut it. Customers want fast, easy and reliable claims experiences, and LexisNexis® Flyreel® for Claims can help.

LexisNexis® Flyreel® for Claims* is a consumer, AI-powered, self-guided survey tool that allows customers to initiate property claim inspections on their terms. It delivers quick, intuitive and reassuring customer experiences and gives adjusters informative, first-hand data to keep claims moving.

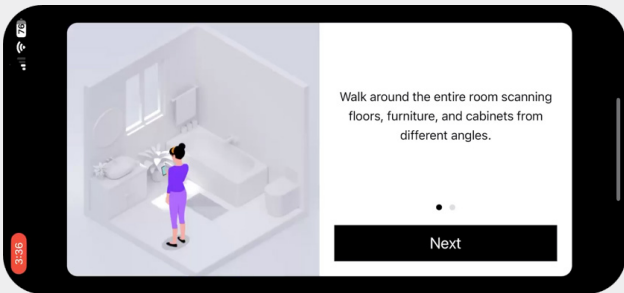

LexisNexis® Flyreel® for Claims:

-  Moves inspections to FNOL
-  Collapses the process into a single interaction
-  Delivers more accurate information
-  Enables quicker estimates
-  Improves customer and adjuster satisfaction

A quick and easy process for adjusters and customers

Fast-track claims processing at FNOL

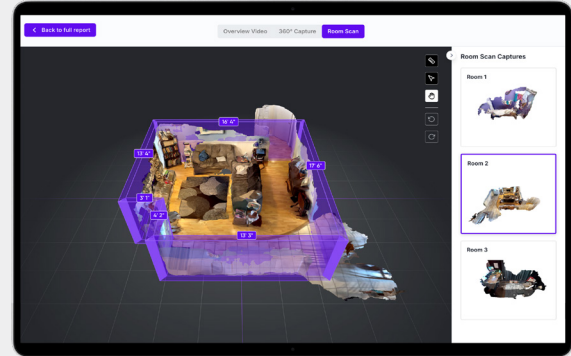

- Delight policyholders with streamlined claims experiences
- Maximize adjusters' time with the tools and data they need

Panoramic views are like “being there”

360-degree panoramic views

- Prompts help ensure damage is correctly captured
- Adjusters can “revisit the scene” and tap into preserved, high-resolution details

Inspections jump start the FNOL process

FNOL begins at capture

- Customers document the damage once to initiate the claim
- Adjusters leverage the policyholder's AI generated video narration and transcription of the damage

More accurate measurements, even in small spaces

Room dimensions and floor images deliver detailed views of damage

- Adjusters gain end-to-end, 3D models through computer-generated images
- Adjusters send measurements directly to estimation software
