

Proactively Manage Your Small Business Portfolio

Automated alerts for both negative and positive changes help mitigate risk and identify opportunities.

Due diligence shouldn't stop after your financial institution has onboarded a small business and established a credit relationship. The dynamics within the business often change quickly. Unforeseen situations can put lenders at risk or present new opportunities for growth. Given the continuously evolving environment, you need to stay alert to the status of the small business and its credit accounts.

LexisNexis® Small Business Monitoring with SBFE Data™ enhances your internal efforts by delivering updates on the status of your small business customers. It leverages alternative data combined with traditional credit data to give you a much clearer picture of a small business's financial health throughout the customer life cycle.

You set thresholds, event targets and timeframes for customized alerts. Then Small Business Monitoring works behind the scenes, conducting oversight to provide you with unprecedented account visibility.

Proactive risk detection can help you minimize losses

Small Business Monitoring with SBFE Data enables you to proactively manage your small business accounts by providing alerts for both negative and positive changes. When you're aware of potential problems with a business, you can take action to protect your organization by limiting unused credit or setting up a payment program to help prevent default.

Identify performance shifts in your small business accounts.
