

Accelerate approval rates, reduce costs and mitigate risk with superior business verification

Smart interactions depend on truly knowing your customer. To quickly capitalize on new opportunities, you need an accurate and amplified view of a business and the people associated with the entity. How can you cost-effectively speed up onboarding workflows while steering clear of risk?

LexisNexis® Flex ID Business delivers instant access to proven business content, stronger entity linking and advanced analytics to help give your business precise decisioning perspective to maximize approval rates and minimize risk.

Book more accounts with extensive business coverage

Flex ID Business gives you the competitive advantage of next-generation business verification. By combining the reach of more than 10,000 data sources with the intelligence of industry-leading linking capabilities, Flex ID Business helps accelerate entity verification and rapidly connect businesses with associated representatives to provide a detailed decisioning viewpoint that can help:

Automate and accelerate the approval process

Reduce costly delays and manual reviews

Minimize risk exposure

Stop bad actors at the gate

Facilitate a comprehensive risk review

Instantly modify onboarding friction based on risk

Flex ID Business expands your perspective by covering 25% more U.S. businesses than any other provider, including millions of hard-to-assess small and new businesses. By combining robust commercial content that includes business names, locations, FEINs and firmographics with the renowned reach of LexisNexis® consumer content, we deliver the most powerful small business-to-authorized-representative verification available in the market today. With this tool, you have the power to instantly build a broader understanding of a business and the people associated with it, so you can seize untapped market opportunities, streamline approvals and sidestep hidden risk.

Automate decisions and eliminate variances

Flex ID Business provides relevant risk intelligence on businesses and the people connected to the business to help proactively identify risk and enable more confident approvals. By delivering concise, easy-to-interpret results in a 0-50 risk verification index, Flex ID Business helps streamline approvals and eliminate variances. Increase decision clarity and consistency with features that help your business:

- Auto-verify more businesses and get substantially fewer no-hits with the combination of significantly improved linking, unsurpassed data quality and robust alternative data assets.
- Verify the person applying as well as the business.
- Identify more in-depth connections between the business and authorized representatives with our improved Business-to-Executive Link.

- Magnify your perspective into the growing sole proprietorship and Small Office/Home Office population with our Residential Business Indicator.
- Access detailed verification indices that summarize the source in which the subject was verified and the source count.
- Accelerate investigations with risk flags and reason codes that highlight specific areas of concern.

With Flex ID Business you get precise business decisioning perspective that increases focus on your core business goals.
