BEFORE ACCURINT ONE	WITH ACCURINT ONE
Scattered Data. Missed Connections. Lost Time.	Connected Data. Investigative Insight. More Efficiency.
 Fragmented Data: Critical information often lives in separate systems and siloed databases.	 Unified Intelligence: Agency data, partner data and LexisNexis data brought together in one secure environment.
 Connecting the Dots: Manual research, copying and pasting, and piecing together incomplete records.	 Automated Connections: Linking technology to connect identities, vehicles, addresses, phones, and events to help reveal unknown relationships.
 Multiple Searches: The same search across multiple systems with different and inconsistent results.	 Omni Search: One search reveals all available data sources for faster answers without switching between multiple systems.
 Information Overload: More data. More noise. Harder to find what matters.	 Actionable Insight: Contextualized data, visualization of connections and advanced analytics to help turn information into intelligence you can act on.
 Siloed Operations: Teams work in isolation with different tools and limited visibility.	 One Operational Environment: All roles work from the same intelligence foundation, tailored for their mission.
